THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislative Assembly did not make much progress in any direction yesterday, but the sitting was remarkable from a speech upon economy and retrenchment by His Excellency Mr. Gibson. It was not only the best speech of the session, but by far the most effective one that he has ever delivered in the Assembly. Our report, although pretty full, does not do it justice. It was well received in the House, and elicited a strong compliment from the Hon. Mr. Bishop.

The Internal Tax bill came up for consideration under the special order of yesterday, but was postponed until Friday, on motion of Mr. Hayselden, who stated as a reason for postponement that the minority complained of want of time to master its details. This prevents its being dealt with in time to affect the tax levy for the current financial year. Under all the circumstances we are not disposed to quarrel with the decision. It is better to take time and pass an equitable and simple tax law than to enact a crude law, which would come up in the next following session for amendment. There is therefore really nothing to be gained in the long run by hasty legislation, and if the delay to the consideration of this measure next Friday, the postponement will not have been without advantage to the country at large.

The estimates of expenditure in the Appropriation bill were taken up, during the discussion on which His Excellency Mr. Gibson made the speech already referred to. The necessity for rigid economy was recognized by all speakers, and the pruning knife of retrenchment was unsparingly applied. This, to be truly effective, should be done intelligently, and reductions in each case should be considered with reference to the value and importance of the service rendered. In other words, there should be just discrimination exercised in this matter, as would be done by the head of a banking-house, mercantile firm or manufactory who had resolved to retrench, and reorganize the business under his control. It is just possible that a very considerable sum might be saved by reorganizing the various bureaus. This, however, is only known to Ministers who have had experience of the working of the departments, and is a matter that could not be safely undertaken by the Legislature. It may be that we are wrong, however, in this assumption, and that the perfection of system has been reached in the working details of the various departments, but we very much doubt it. Be this as it may, retrenchment is absolutely necessary, and if it cannot be brought about partly by change of method, it must be arrived at wholly in some other way.

DETERMINED SUICIDE.

A Chinese Leper Throws Himself off King-street Bridge.

On Monday morning, shortly before noon, a Chinaman named Lee Moon Chan jumped from the King-street bridge into the stream and was drowned. It appears that he was a leper and wanted to go to China on the German bark Hydra, but was refused passage. Several persons saw him jump from the bridge. A native diver, and after two attempts brought the body up. Deputy Marshal Dayton was notified, and in the afternoon held an inquest at the Station House. The following jury was empaneled: Kepahoni, A. Blake, Makauahoa, Sai Mow, Ah Phart and Cong Leen. After viewing the body the following evidence was taken:

Le Cheung, sworn, stated: The deceased had no relations here. He worked last at Hakalau. Came here two or three weeks ago for the purpose of raising money to go to China. Heard he had leprosy. Did not know he had any money. He came from China six years ago.

Naholowaa, sworn, stated: I did not see him fall in the water. Saw a crowd at the bridge, and went to the spot. Was told a Chinaman had been drowned. Some Chinese offered $1 to anyone who would recover the body. They told me he fell in the water while trying to get his hat. Ah Hana came along and offered $10 to get him out. I dived down with a rope. The first time I did not see him. The second time I found the body close to the side of the bridge.

Maka (w), sworn, stated: I saw the deceased on the bridge talking very loud and making gestures. He jumped into the water, and I did not see him again.

The jury, after deliberation, returned the following verdict: "That Lee Moon Chan came to his death by drowning, he being a leper and in destitute circumstances."

Late in the afternoon the remains were buried at Panoa. The deceased was about 50 years of age.

BASEBALL.

Hawaii, 20; Benedicts, 10.

There was a large attendance at the game on Saturday afternoon between the Hawaii and Benedicts. The game was a very exciting one, and required ten innings to be played before it was decided. It was called at 3:55 with Hawaii at the bat. Kaia knocked a grounder to Kinney at first, and retired. Desha sent an easy fly to left field which F. Winter gracefully dropped. Perry reached first by Booth's failure to stop a slow grounder. Auld struck out, and Moehonua, Kahai and Bright followed with base hits, three runs being scored. Morton took first on seven balls, thus filling the bases. Fredenberg also managed to have seven balls called and was given first, Kahai coming home. Kaia again favored Kinney with a grounder, which the latter failed to hold. Desha then made a three-base hit, and was put out by Wodehouse to Wilder, eight runs being scored after three chances for outs were given.

For the Benedicts, Wilder made first by Perry's fumble of a grounder; Kinney knocked to Bright, who fielded to first, but Kaia muffed. J. Winter retired on a high fly to Auld at right field. Wodehouse reached first by David's muffed of a pop fly. Fredenberg then caught Lishman's fly, but allowed Booth's grounder to go by him. Wilder, Kinney and Wodehouse scored. Lyons went out—Moehonua to Kaia—Booth being left on second. Both sides failed to score in the second inning. In the third inning the Hawaii earned two runs by Kahai's two-bagger and a home run for Bright. Wodehouse scored one for the Benedicts, reaching first on a base hit, stealing second, going to third on a passed ball, and coming in on a hit for two.

In the fourth inning the Hawaii made five runs, one of which was earned, and Kinney and Wodehouse scored for the Benedicts. Wall now relieved Lyons as pitcher and the Hawaii managed to score but one run in the next five innings, although they had men on bases each inning. The Benedicts added ten runs to their score in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings by good batting of Wodehouse, Lishman, F. Winter and Booth, assisted by half a dozen bad errors in fielding. At the end of the eighth inning the score stood sixteen each, and as neither side was able to score in the ninth, a tenth inning was begun, the Hawaii playing under protest, however, they claiming that the run made by Wodehouse in the fourth inning should not have counted, as he came in on a hit which did not give the batter his first base. Errors by Booth, Kinney and Wall gave the first three men their first; Fredenberg got there on seven balls, and all four scored. For the Benedicts, F. Winter made first on three strikes. Wall and Wilder made base hits, bringing Winter in, and scored themselves on wild throws of Perry and Bright, Kinney, Lishman and Booth going out. Score, three runs.

A Narrow Escape.

On Saturday morning a native boy named Ai met with an accident at the Enterprise Mill, which nearly cost him his life. He got caught in the main belt of the machinery, and before he could be extricated received serious injuries. Dr. P. P. Gray was called in, and found the left shoulder dislocated. The doctor set it, and the boy is doing well. He was considerably bruised and scratched all over the body, and his clothes were torn to shreds.

Sunday School Exhibition.

The quarterly exhibition of Sunday schools was held in the Kawaiahao Church Sunday morning under the direction of Hon. W. M. Castle. The building was crowded in every part with the parents and friends of the pupils. Her Royal Highness Princess Liliuokalani was present. Mr. Berger presided at the organ, and with the assistance of several members of the band discoursed selections of music at intervals. The first prize, a neatly-framed picture, "Christ the Way of Life," presented by the Princess Liliuokalani, was awarded to the Kakaako Sunday school. The Manoa Sunday school took the second prize.

Chas. E. Foster, Sydney; V. Knudsen, Kauai; Norman Hulbert, Kilauea; Dr. S. E. Craddock, Wainane; and Ch. Lehman, Hakalau, are registered at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

Inoculation of a Condemned Criminal.

The following is a summary of an account in the "New York Medical Journal" of the first attempt to use a condemned criminal for the solution of an important and scientific question at the Hawaiian Islands. It appears that, more than two years ago, the Government procured the services of Dr. Edward Arning for the purpose of having a thorough and scientific study made of leprosy. Attempts were made to cultivate the bacillus lepre, which is uniformly found in great numbers in the deceased parts, but not in the blood, by Koch's method, using various media, but without success. Numerous inoculation experiments upon lower animals were made, but, although the bacilli would grow at the points of inoculation for a long time, the animal never became infected. At last Dr. Arning obtained permission to make an inoculation upon a condemned criminal, whose sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life. With the convict's written consent an inoculation of leprosy matter was made in his arm, and bacilli were found in the sore or the scar up to fourteen months after the operation, no constitutional symptoms being observed. One further observation of importance was made by Dr. Arning. He found that in putrid leprosy tissues, and even in the body of a leper who had been dead for three months, the bacilli were found in great numbers. This seems to bear against their specific pathogenic function. Owing to difficulties with the Health Board, it is stated that it is highly probable Dr. Arning will be obliged to discontinue his work of research. With respect to the cultivation of bacilli, Dr. Neisser, of Breslau, appears to have been most successful than Dr. Arning, for he has recently stated that in a few cases he has observed an exceedingly slow growth, and he also claims to have recognized spores, which the Hawaiian observer has, so far, failed to do.—Lancet, May 8th.
